SOCIAL MEDIA GROWTH HACKS

-Networking- guest posting-

Connect with like-minded influencers and ask if you can guest post on their platform. Make sure the content you post is creative and engaging for their audience.

-Giveaways- group giveaways-

Giveaways are a great way to increase social followers FAST, buzz around your brand and give back your audience.

-Cross Promotion- on your social networks-

Share your blog posts across all of your social channels. You can also invite your Twitter followers to connect with you on Pinterest. Cross promotion of your social channel is simple, but it works!

-Post consistently- Schedule posts-

Posting consistently helps create a relationship with your audience. They know when to visit to find new content. Scheduling posts out is a great way to ensure your content is coming out consistently.

-Know your audience- post during optimized times

Ask your audience often what they like that you post and what they would like to see more of. Using that with analytics is a great way to grow organically. Not sure what times to post are the best? The easy way is to see when the content gets the best engagement. If you are looking for a higher-tier lesson We will be going over it more in The Blogging Village next week.
